across 2 waiting bands	over 24h - 95.7% of the total

Commentary

The report displays pending transfers awaiting approval, categorized by how long they have been in the queue. There are 198 transfers that have been waiting for over 24 hours, with a total value at risk of 27,087,807,059.43. In the 4-24 hour waiting band, there are 9 transfers with a value at risk of 1,211,420,382.62. The majority of the value at risk is concentrated in the over 24-hour band, which may warrant closer examination to ensure timely processing and mitigate potential risks.

count peaks at 198, against 27.1bn for the largest series, so plotting it would be a flat line on the axis. It is in the table.
