Commentary

The report presents the total daily ledger flow categorized by each day of the week. Thursday is the only day with a positive ledger flow, amounting to 20,852,099,122.10, indicating it is consistently lighter compared to other days. In contrast, Friday has the heaviest negative flow at -97,832,696,698.84, followed closely by Wednesday with -90,336,060,315.29. The operations team should particularly examine the significant negative flows on Monday, Wednesday, and Friday to understand the underlying factors contributing to these imbalances.
